

THE PUBLIC EYE

Posted on Mon, May, 10, 2010

READER FEEDBACK
Post a comment

Dan Gross: Cataldi's the usual cut-up over theft of his cartoon face

By Dan Gross
Philadelphia Daily News

SOMEONE OUT there hates 610 WIP morning host

Angelo Cataldi

so much that they sliced his caricature off the walls full of faces at the Palm (200 S. Broad). Palm GM

Jim Haney

, who noticed Cataldi's mug missing this week, says that to his knowledge the last cartoon defaced was that of

O.J. Simpson

during his murder trial. Fittingly, a steak knife was shoved so far into Simpson's head that only the handle was sticking out of the wall, Haney said.

Charitably minded

In an effort to raise funds and awareness for the Kimmel Cancer Center at Thomas Jefferson University Hospital, Rosa Martinez for Studio Artur (728 West), in Jenkintown, is collaborating with "Fight for Cure" to present "Cut for the Cure" from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. Complimentary spring cocktails and $30 haircuts will be offered throughout the afternoon, with proceeds going toward "Fight for Cure" and the Kimmel Cancer Center. For more info, visit fightforcure.org.

Community activist Paul "Earthquake" Moore is gearing up for his 11th annual Weekend of Peace and Gospelrama for Peace. The show begins at 8 p.m. Friday at the Elmwood Skating Rink (71st & Elmwood), and at 11 a.m. Saturday members of the State Burners Motorcycle Club will line up at Broad & Pattison, ride up Broad to Cheltenham Avenue, then return to the stadium area. A reception will follow the ride at the State Burners Motorcycle Clubhouse, near 52nd & Woodland, where other bikers are expected. A wreath will be on display at the skating rink, as will an urn containing the remains of a homicide victim. Moore said he hoped that these bold reminders would make children and young adults see the dangers of a violent lifestyle. For info, call Moore at 215-385-2696.

Visit PhillyGossip.com for Dan's latest updates or follow PhillyGossip on Twitter. Have a tip? Call 215-854-5963, or e-mail grossd@phillynews.com. For recent columns, visit go.philly.com/dangross.